MINECRAFT

Working on a baby pig farm is not always easy! You have to look after the animals and grow vegetables to feed them. And what would happen if a zombified piglin messed up the garden? Don't let the pigs go hungry!

Fix the garden

Follow the pattern in each row to fill it in with the right plant. The patterns will get more difficult as you go!

Pandas

Although pandas, orcas and penguins live in different places, there are some similarities between them, and it's not just their colours! Read on to find out more about these animals!

Penguins

Penguins live in groups of thousands, huddling close to stay warm, making a giant group hug!

Parents feed chicks by putting fish right into their beaks, like a special delivery service!

Penguins live in the Southern Hemisphere, mostly in Antarctica, but not only.

Every orca family has a unique language. They chat through clicks, whistles, squeaks and screams. It's like a secret code!

Orcas

Orcas live in all oceans! They love the cold waters near Antarctica and the Arctic, but also visit warmer places.

Baby orcas are called calves. They can be quite long and weigh as much as a bear!

Sometimes pandas do handstands against trees when urinating. That's how they mark their territory!

Pandas live in mountain forests in China. They munch mainly on bamboo, for up to 16 hours a day. That's a lot of chewing!

Tiny cubs stay close to their mothers, nestled in their paws for what feels like an endless cuddle!

Quiz time!

Try these questions and see how much you remember. If you're not sure, don't worry. Look back at the fun facts and images for hints!

1. Penguin chicks hunt for their own food.

☐ True ☐ False

2. Which of these two animals can do handstands?

☐ Panda ☐ Penguin

3. Whose baby is called a calf?

☐ Penguin's ☐ Orca's ☐ Panda's

4. Both pandas and penguins like to hug.

☐ True ☐ False

5. What is a panda's favourite food?

☐ Fish ☐ Bamboo ☐ Worms

6. Where does each animal live? Match the coloured dots on the map to the correct animal by drawing a line. Use the dot colours as a hint!

Love the way you build

My name is Jennifer Jasmin Kessler and I am from Germany. I am a photographer and a musician; I play guitar in a band where we write songs for kids. The songs are about friendships and animals, and even about octopuses!

I also love taking pictures of LEGO® minifigures!

I love creating tiny worlds for my favourite LEGO® minifigures

I like placing them in different scenes. They can go on many adventures, and I can take pictures to capture their stories!

What is your favourite LEGO® minifigure and what adventures does it enjoy the most?

Lighting is very important

Being outside or near a window is a good choice, but if a minifigure looks dark compared to the background, I use a white piece of paper to bounce some light back onto it.

Where will your minifigure go next?

I let the minifigures inspire me

I use their facial expressions and other details to come up with different ideas. I also use objects around me, like flat stones and some grass, to create background.

To create amazing scenes inside, I find interesting places and things around the house, but also make dioramas. Sometimes an unexpected spot can be a perfect setting!

Getting down to the same level as the minifigure makes the photos more exciting and brings the scene to life!

What fun things will you use to bring your minifigure adventures to life?
